

SOCIETY

THE book of society is opened, and the page turned first of all is that of the debutantes. The first part is devoted to the formal presentation of the girls making their initial bow to society, and while the most important event of the year, so far as the debutantes are concerned, the "first Mondays" ceremony is never danced until late in December, nearly all of the biggest functions given for the younger crowd take place in November and December.

There are just lots of perfectly lovely girls coming out this season. The list just now is only a partial one; many of them are still lingering abroad at the various shore and mountain resorts, and still a good many have not quite decided whether they will take a degree at college, a year abroad or tuck up their curls and take hearts instead.

Some of the girls to be presented to Richmond society this winter are Misses Belle Willard, Mary Tompkins, Mary Boyd, Elizabeth Taylor, Gay Montague, Bertranda, Genevieve, Lucille, Doris Jones, Charlotte Jones, Frances Bemiss, Katherine Kaches, Emily Royall, Katherine Hagan, Emma Conquest, Elizabeth Bentley, Gertrude Carter, Katie Taylor, Helen Hanks, Lucie Johnston, Mary Johnson, and others that have not as yet been announced.

Very soon the mails will be crowded with invitations to big functions and smaller affairs, and the days will be filled with a round of pleasant things given for the debutantes with their bodies and beaux, who have adorned similar affairs, still doing business at the same old stand.

Prominent Engagement.
Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Howell Agnew, of Beaver, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Dr. Herbert Mann, of this city, the marriage to occur in December. Mr. and Mrs. Agnew and their daughter have spent much time in Richmond during the past two years, and have many friends here. Miss Agnew is the daughter of the late Chief Justice Daniel Agnew, of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Mann is a nephew of the Governor of Virginia, and is a prominent and well known physician of Richmond.

This engagement is one of the most interesting of the fall announcements to society in Richmond, and the betrothal to the State, and the celebration of Miss Agnew's wedding to Dr. Mann in the month of December will be one of the fashionable events of the winter season.

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Grigg.
Mrs. Martyn K. Coster, of Pittsburg, Pa., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Grigg, at their home on West Avenue for this month. Mrs. Coster is the daughter of the late John Grigg, who has been spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Coster, in Pittsburg, has returned to the city.

Miss Donohoe Entertained.
Another important engagement recently announced is that of Miss Mary LeGrand Donohoe, of Fairfax, and Fairfax Shield McChandish, the wedding to take place some time late in the fall.

Miss Donohoe is a daughter of the late Senator S. C. Donohoe, and a niece of R. Walton Moore, with whom she has always made her home. Mr. McChandish is the junior member of the law firm of Moore, Barbour and Keith, of Fairfax, and like Miss Donohoe belongs to a family prominent throughout the State.

In Atlantic City.
Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Saunders, Jr., and their daughter, Miss Mary Saunders, are now in Atlantic City, and are registered at the Chalfonte Hotel in that place. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and their daughter will stop in New York for some time before returning to Richmond.

At the Country Club.
The regular meeting of the Country Club this week has been very numerous, and lovely little dinners have been given every night in spite of the cool weather. Big log fires in the clubhouse and great vases of goldenrod and scarlet flowers have added a fall atmosphere to the place, and instead of the tables for cool drinks on the lawn, one finds cozy tables for tea drawn up around the fire, and the card rooms gay with small parties every afternoon.

Some of those noted at the clubhouse during the past week have been Miss Phoebe Cullinsworth, Miss Evans, Roy Brown, Mr. Evans, Miss Ship-pard and Mr. Nottingham, who were entertained at supper on Saturday evening; Mrs. Robert Vitt, Miss Dora Witt, of Lexington, and Mrs. Hanks Hobson, of Powhatan county, who were entertained at luncheon on Thursday.

Mrs. Edgar Gunn, Mrs. Allen Donnan, Mrs. Willie Palmer, Miss Hattie Ross, and Mrs. Stuart Hume were among the several parties luncheon at the club on Thursday. The tables were set in the small dining rooms and decorated with vases of scarlet sage.

In the North.
Miss Mary Scarborough, who has been at Watch Hill, Rhode Island, all during the summer, is now at the Virginia Hot Springs. Miss Scarborough will leave the Hot on Wednesday of this week for Newport, where she will be the guest of Miss Lucie Stevens, of New York. The Stevenses have a cottage at Newport every season.

Returned to the City.
Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stuart Valentine and their son, Charles, returned to Richmond Tuesday, after spending the month of August and part of September at Lake Placid, New York. They have opened their town house, 500 Park Avenue, for the winter. Miss Joseline Valentine, who also spent the summer with her parents at Lake Placid, has come to Berryville, where she is the guest of Mrs. E. L. Wheat for two weeks.

Ten at the Hot.
Mr. and Mrs. George T. M. Gibson, Mrs. William L. James and Mrs. William C. Worthington were among the guests at the study tea given by Hamilton King, of New York, at the Virginia Hot Springs on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. King is painting a portrait of Mrs. David Dunlop, of Petersburg.

Entertained.
Mrs. J. Laverne Hurt, of Sanford, Florida, entertained Thursday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Lottie Mae Hurt, of Richmond. The Misses Higgins also entertained in honor of Miss Hurt at a porch party and dance on Tuesday evening in that place. Miss Hurt will not return to her home in this city until late in the autumn.

Approaching Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery Duval, of 464 High Street, Farmville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Edith Brent, to David Whitree Reed, of Roanoke. The wedding will be celebrated some time in October.

Entertained.
Miss Frankie McKinney, of Farmville, entertained on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Edith Duval, whose engagement was announced. After each guest had drawn a hand-painted score card in the form of a bridegroom, containing the announcement of the engagement, bridges were played and tea was served at the conclusion of the game. The guest of honor was presented with a lovely piece of embroidery done by her hostess, and orange blossoms were presented to each guest as souvenirs of the occasion. Miss Mildred Richardson was awarded the first prize.

At the Country Club.
Those present were Misses Janet Duval, Babel O'Farrell, Luke Dunnington, Hattie Bugg, Mabel Richardson, Elizabeth Richardson, Mary Faye Irving, Sue Gray, Plippen, Carrie, Kyle, Alice Burgess, Margaret Watkins, Martha Edmunds, Eloise Harrison, Hattie Paullet, Lelia Jackson, Mary Jackson and Mrs. J. Taylor Thompson.

Reunion at "Rugby."
A very unique reunion was just ended at "Rugby," the beautiful home of Mrs. Rosser, near the University of Virginia. Seven of Mrs. Rosser's schoolmates of the years '61-'62 were asked to enjoy her hospitality at this charming home, and for one week good fellowship, good cheer, mirth and fun and sparkling wit filled the handsome home and porches of "Rugby" and made the school comrades loth to leave. Mrs. S. P. Gregory, of Ashland, was the first veteran to arrive and she was made chaperon; then came Mrs. Junius Gregory, of New Kent, formerly Miss Sallie Barton Winston; Mrs. Samuel R. Cook, of Hanover, formerly Jennie Winston; then, numbered as a wartime belle, Mrs. C. Somerville, of Tennessee, formerly the handsome Miss Kate Gregory, often called the "Saxon Princess," from her very blonde beauty; Mrs. George P. Hawk, of "Tunee," and Mrs. P. Ballard, of Richmond, the well known daughters of Dr. L. B. Price, of "Dundee," at whose home these seven friends met and were taught in the early sixties by that most remarkable and unique Englishwoman, Miss Louisa Webb.

The genuine and charming hospitality dispensed by Mrs. Rosser, the graceful, dignified chaperone of "Rugby," could never be excelled, and her friends will hold her always in grateful remembrance even as they did when she was the fair and lovely Miss Betty H. Winston, of Courtland, in old Hanover.

Among the additional guests not schoolmates were Mrs. B. L. Winston, of Hanover, and Dr. Junius Gregory. Interesting Announcement.

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Carrie Neal Bishop, of Mississippi, and Lieutenant Kenneth S. Perkins, United States Army, Field Artillery Corps, is of great interest here.

Lieutenant Perkins, who is the oldest son of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Perkins, of Norfolk, is popular with a wide circle of friends in Norfolk, who will be interested in hearing of his nuptials. With his regiment he is now stationed at Fort Stotsenburg, Philippine Islands, at which place the wedding will take place the middle of October. Miss Bishop is the sister of Lieutenant Bishop, of the Field Artillery, also stationed at Fort Stotsenburg. She is an extremely pretty and very charming young Southern girl, who has been very popular during her visits to her brother at the army posts.

Entertained in Roanoke.
Says the Roanoke Times of Friday: "Miss Mason Jameson, of Richmond, yesterday morning at the Country Club, complimentary to Miss Elise Funsten, of Idaho, and Miss Mary Crump, of Idaho."

"Eleven tables were placed on the club's wide veranda. Novel talley's marked the place-cards. After the game luncheon was served in the clubhouse, and the tables were very effectively decorated in scarlet sage, while place cards, with appropriate verses, added much to the merit of the guests."

Mrs. Jameson's guests were Miss Mary Crump, Miss Elise Funsten, Mrs. George VanLeer, Mrs. J. W. Hancock, Mrs. Walter Jameson, Mrs. James C. Cassell, Mrs. John Trout, Mrs. DeLoes Thomas, Miss Martha Trout, Mrs. John Reid, Mrs. J. E. Crawford, Mrs. D. W. Hickox, Mrs. W. S. Roper, Mrs. A. D. Ferguson, Mrs. J. D. Hobbs, Mrs. Ed. Tinsley, Miss Rosa Tinsley, Mrs. George Payne, Mrs. Junius Fishburn, Mrs. Lila Jamison, Mrs. G. W. Merrill, Mrs. C. S. Churchill, Miss Mary Rogers, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Miss A. B. Hammond, Mrs. E. S. Green, Mrs. Matson, Mrs. R. L. McComb, Mrs. R. L. Hays, Mrs. White, of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Davidson, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. D. M. Taylor, Mrs. Lila Starkey, Mrs. Lynn R. Hammond, Misses Alice Izard, Sallie Fishburn, Willie Hobart, Annie Hobbs, Mary Tice, Alice Preston, Sara Lee, of Charlottesville, W. Va.; Miss Abbott, of Mexico, Mrs. Ellis Robinson, Mrs. J. K. Graham."

Back From the Mountains.
Miss Marie Kolner has returned to the city after an extended visit to friends in Salem, Roanoke and Lynchburg. Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Kolner and their daughter, Miss Marie Kolner, have given up their home on Grove Avenue and will occupy an apartment at the Shenandoah this winter.

Marriage Announced.
Mrs. Margaret Ellen Hope announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma Jeanette, to Joseph Dudley Davis, of Blackstone, the ceremony having taken place on Monday, September 4, in Washington, the Rev. S. R. White officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are now in Richmond yesterday, and will make their home at 104 South Pine Street.

Left Friday.
Mrs. Sidney Johnston Dudley and Miss Virginia Atkinson left town Friday to spend a few days at the Chamberlin Hotel at old Point Comfort. Mrs. Dudley attended the tournament at Buckroe Beach on Saturday afternoon. Miss Margaret Atkinson Dudley is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ashe, in Gloucester county, for several weeks.

Coleman-Goodwyn.
The marriage of Miss Sallie Clayton Goodwyn, daughter of Mrs. Mary Goodwyn, of 1121 Porter Street, South Richmond, to Henry Marvin Coleman, of Warfield, took place on Wednesday, September 6, in Henderson, N. C. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and was witnessed by only a few people, including the brother of the groom, Mr. Coleman and his bride were accompanied to Henderson by the groom's sister-in-law and brother, Mrs. Coleman is a sister of W. H. Goodwyn, a prominent attorney of this city. They have returned to Richmond and, after a short visit to relatives in South Richmond, will go to Warfield, where Mr. Coleman now resides.

Satterwhite Entertained.
Mrs. C. C. Satterwhite, of Barton Heights, has been the honor guest at many pretty appointed affairs during her visit with Mrs. James T. Garber, of Pittsburg.

On Wednesday of last week a luncheon was given in her honor at the McCleary dining hall. The decorations were carried out in pink and green, and automobiles carried the party to the Heinz pickle factory, where a tour of that immense plant was made.

On Thursday Mrs. Satterwhite was entertained at luncheon at the new Pittsburg Athletic Club, followed by a matinee party at the Duquesne Theatre in the evening the party attended the Russian Symphony Orchestra concert at the Pittsburg Exposition.

Mrs. Satterwhite will leave Pittsburg Monday to visit relatives in New York.

In and Out of Town.
Miss Grace Neal has returned from Lynchburg and "Mulberry Green," the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Neal, where she spent the summer.

Miss Robyn Mai Miller left Tuesday for the mountains near Roanoke, where she will remain for several weeks.

Mrs. Marion Lambert and children are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Parker on West Avenue.

Boyd Todd has gone to Houston, Tex., where he expects to make his home for the present.

TAILORED SUITS, DRESSES, COATS

For Early Fall Wear

...ATTRACTIVE IN PRICE AND STYLE...

The women who appreciate DISTINCTIVE OUTER APPAREL, in artistic combination, novelty designs of materials and trimmings, will find our display more than usually attractive. Every garment embodies a sufficiency of original features to please the feminine eye. In fact, we have surpassed all previous seasons in our selection of smart apparel, and at very reasonable prices.

See our new show windows—Its unique construction displaying the trend of the new fashions.

Unusually Clever Examples in Tailored Suits at $20.00

In presenting these Suits we have thrown every effort into producing the very best in every way. They are the usual $25.00 values. The tailoring shows at a glance the master hand, and the range of colors and materials now in vogue. Coats are mostly 28-inch. Some have a touch of trimming, bringing out its beautiful lines; others strictly man-tailored. The skirts are in the girder effect; others gored, with a wide panel back and front, with kicked plait at side.

Unmatched Array of Quality Tailored Suits at $25.00

We have succeeded in forming a display of Suits that are unequalled at the price—garments of character, exclusiveness and style. Many are copies from foreign models. All the English rough weaves, fancy suitings as well as serges and broadcloth in the collection. Many show the deep revers, inlaid with velvet; others show the clean cut, severe lines of the strictly tailored model, and the straight hanging, slightly fuller skirt.

Dresses for Every Occasion

Our salon is thronged with a beautiful collection of Dresses—the mode of the hour—inspired by the most popular creative artists. A visit to-morrow will explain the reason of their great popularity. The favorite materials are serges, striped cloth, crepe metors, chamois and silk serge, the new weave, showing the frequent use of fichu and fringes, with the new wide panel back. The colorings of maze, coronation purple and staple shades. Prices range from $7.50 up to $29.50.

Fascinating Effects in Autumn Waists

They will make their bow to-morrow. Some are tailored, others trimmed effects, showing the newest designs, in chiffon, taffeta, messaline and Roman stripe taffeta—all refreshingly new and pretty. Many elaborately braided, with net yokes over chiffon. Priced from $2.98 up to $12.50.

MADAME IRENE CORSETS

Embody the Most Advanced Style Ideas.

The latest whim of fashion in Corsets is an extremely low bust. In fact, the newest models of the Madame Irene extend a little above the waist line, and the long skirt reduces the hips to the vanishing point.

Madame Irene Corset, medium bust, 18½-inch back, six hose supporters, long skirt, made of coutil; a model for the medium figure..... $5.00

Madame Irene Corset, low bust, 20-inch back, eight hose supporters, extra long skirt; a model for the average figure..... $7.50

All Madame Irene Corsets, however, do not show the very low bust, as there are many figures which cannot wear such a model.

Brassieres are Essential With New Corsets

Chatham Social News

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Chatham, September 16.—The William Pitt Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. S. J. Payne and Miss Isla Ragsdale. This was the first meeting since the adjournment for the summer months, and a very enjoyable occasion. The house was attractively decorated in the national colors and numerous flags added to the effect. The same color scheme was carried out in the refreshments. Mrs. N. E. Clement read an interesting paper on the life of William Pitt, the great English statesman, for whom this chapter was named.

Those present were Mesdames T. A. Watkins, S. H. Hart, Sarah Watson, E. P. Martin, R. G. McLees, James D. Jones, Harry Pannill, N. E. Clement, Frank Epperson, T. J. Coles, C. R. Warren, W. R. Drewry, C. L. Carter and Miss Mary Clement.

The Chatham Episcopal Institute opened on Wednesday for the ensuing session, which will be in attendance by the largest in the history of the institution. The new south dormitory is being rapidly pushed to completion, and will be ready for occupancy very soon. Mrs. L. May Willis, for several years principal, heads the faculty list, with an efficient corps of assistants.

Miss Alice Moorhead, of Danville, was for several days the charming house guest of Mrs. M. E. Ragsdale. Miss Moorhead, accompanied by Mrs. Ragsdale, returned to Danville Tuesday.

R. I. Stanley, of Richmond, was guest of friends Saturday.

William White, Maurice Fitzgerald, Frank Norman and John Moore left Tuesday for Durham, N. C., to enter Trinity. This is Mr. Moore's second year on the same day William Rison left for Pittsburg, Pa., to take a course in electrical engineering. Richard Reid went to Hampden-Sidney.
